

"Art is the highest form of hope."

~ Gerhard Richter

Youth Art For Healing is committed to bringing hope through healing art to everyone during this time of uncertainty and challenge.

With the cancellation of our 2020 Art Show, we're inviting you to our "Virtual Art Show" displaying this year's student paintings.

Talented student artists worked diligently since last fall to create 207 comforting paintings for patients, families, and healthcare staff. These uplifting works of art were completed in March, just before the stay-at-home order.

Youth Art For Healing thanks our student artists, art teachers, schools and healthcare partners! You can view the students' artworks and share your appreciation on these YAFH social media channels.

YAFH thanks all our caring and dedicated donors who make our work possible! Please DONATE to support student-created healing art in our community – what a difference YOU can make!
