Dear Friends,

At the end of December, we let you know that we still needed to raise $18,200 in 2021 to reach our yearly budget of $158,500. We asked you to consider giving a year-end donation to help support the talented, dedicated student artists who are participating in our 2021-22 school year projects.

We were overwhelmed by your kindness.

On December 31, our Youth Art For Healing community made $9,710 in online donations. When we added up all 2021 donations, our final fundraising total for the year was $167,449 - exceeding our goal by $8,949!

We are very grateful to everyone for supporting our mission so student artists can keep creating and sharing their beautiful, uplifting artwork with patients, families, and healthcare staff.

Thank you so much for Standing Strong with the rest of the Youth Art For Healing community. We could not spread the healing power of art without your generous support!
